

16. Many Christians offer little more than verbal pleasantries to non-Christians in hope that their “niceness” will draw them to Christ or at least be attributed to them being a Christian. MOST do not actively go into public hand-in-hand with the Holy Spirit asking Him for divine appointments where together we may speak the life of Christ into others.

Most, if they think of it at all, are either too afraid to engage strangers with the gospel or are too bold and rely upon their own charisma and ability to carry a conversation when sharing the gospel. So, have you ever witnessed WITH the Holy Spirit?

Describe your experience?

After you have heard from everyone, spend some time talking about this exploring the thought that the ministry of reconciliation is not just our job but a real and true Ministry which we do together, hand-in-hand with the Holy Spirit of God.
